TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Scientific Polymer Products, Inc. (SP2) will employ only technically qualified people to analyze samples submitted. Customer shall hold SP2 harmless from all liability for loss, claim, or damage to persons or property in connection with disclosure or use of information provided by SP2 under this agreement. Unless previously approved in writing by SP2, Customer also agrees to refrain from association in its literature or advertising on its products, SP2's name or trademark with any of the information provided by SP2.

SP2 reserves the right to refuse any request for service and to discontinue any service begun on a request. For three years from the date of this contract, SP2 will use all reasonable precautions to maintain in confidence from others, information provided by Customer and results of tests on samples submitted by Customer. This obligation of confidence will not apply to information which is known prior to its receipt from Customer, which is or becomes available to the public or which is received from another party not associated with the Customer. The performance of service by SP2 hereunder shall not act as a grant of any right or license to any patent and SP2 does not warrant that the use of the information provided would be free from infringement of patents owned by others.
